Too Much to Carry for Candidate Cal.

(Special to The Daily Worker) WASHINGTON, D. C.--Attorney-General Daugherty and Secretary of the Navy Denby are slated for the discard, is the prediction freely made by senators closely in touch with the developments in the Teapot Dome investigation.

Well-informed political observers are of the opinion that ousting of these two oil-dome twins will come too late to save the Coolidge administration but believe that the president's hand has been forced by the recent disclosures.

It is a matter of record that Denby joined Fall in recommending the transfer of the naval reserve oil lands to the jurisdiction of the de-partment of the interior over the protest of naval engineers.

On Record in Senate

On April 21, 1922, Denby, in a communication to the senate, said hat "at the suggestion of the secretary of the navy, the President of the United States, directed the secretary of the interior to take over the administration of lands in the naval reserves in consultation and co-operation with the secretary of the

After this, Denby signed the Teapot Dome lease giving these prop-erties to Sinclair and the Number 1, naval reserve lease to Doheny.

Before the senate investigating committee, Denby claimed to know

The constitution committee report recommended non-concurrence in resolution 115, from Pursglove, W. Va., calling for the election by referendum vote of all organizers and field work-ers. animous endorsement of the May 30 convention, an emphatic declaration in favor of a national class Farmer-Labor Party and unqualified support of the Minnesota Farmer-Labor Federation, were the outstanding features of the meeting of the Hennepin County Committee of the Working People's Non-Partisan Political League held here last night.

Wm. Mahoney of St. Paul, editor of the Minnesota Labor Advocate, recently returned from Washington, gave an impartial summary of the arguments for and against a postponement of the May 30 Farmer-Labor conven-tion, stating that the conference of farmer-labor groups of the western and southwestern states held recently in Denver, had gone on record fo the May 30 meet as port of the action of the Benver conference carried com with the delegates.

Daugherty Under Suspicion

No one, apparently, is willing to entrust the handling of any proceed-ings, criminal or civil, to Attorney-General Daugherty, and a knowledge of this strong feeling against the head of the administration's legal department is believed to have been a factor in prompting President Coolidge to announce his readiness to appoint special prosecutors if criminal proceedings should be necessary.

Minneapolis Makes Good

The workmanlike manner in which the militant trade unionists of the Minneapolis labor movement dealt with the attempt of middle-class politicians to postpone the Farmer-Labor convention scheduled for St. Paul, May 30, was a vital point in the proceedings. Every convention scheduled for St. Paul, May 30, and thereby create confusion in the ranks of newspaper man was on the job to get a big the workers and farmers will bring joy to the story. heart of everyone who sincerely desires to see a national class party of workers and farmers getting its first fighting experience in the arena and he was revolted by its outright lies. Our comrades in Minneapolis have reason to be proud of the efficient manner in which the offensive against the May 30 convention was halted.

We believe that the action of the Minneappis meeting will do much to convince William relieahoney, editor of the Minnesota Labor Advoate, who broached the postponement proposition, that he has made a mistake and seriously under-estimated the strength of the sentiment for the convention which he was largely instrumental in calling in his home town for May 30.

The Monday night meeting was not only a victory for Minneapolis militants. It was also a victory for the national Farmer-Labor party movement.

Gompers' Democracy

We are not going to recite all the anti-democratic acts of Mr. Sam Gompers. But the other night after the State Department fired its first gun against the movement for American recognition of Soviet Russia, Mr. Gompers and his agents held a "rousing rally" in the Capitol against the resumption of normal relations with the First Workers and Farmers Republic. At this meeting, addressed by a gentleman traveling under the rather modest name of Mr. Sensinoff, and posing as an advisor of the defunct Kerensky regime, there occurred an incident typifying the democracy Mr. Gompers dent typilying the democracy Mr. Gompers nd his ilk stand for. ## The Den of Thieves

A New York judge waxed indignant in sentencing the head of one of the metropolitan bucketing firms. This wizard of finance was given a sentence of from six months to three years in the penitentiary. Judging from our experiences with such sentences on the sons of the wealthy, we are sure that this will be a maximum sentence of six months.

What was the crime of this "bucketeer" In the judge's charge we find a rather interesting explanation. At one juncture the judge explained: "This man's firm operated bucket shops, and they were dens of thievery! Pitiable stories have been told me by customers, some of whom have been widows who lost all they had. I cannot overlook what has been going on in Wall Street. I believe the place is rotten to the core."

This is rather strange. We have always been told that Wall Street was the sanctum sanctorum of individual initiative, of capitalist success, of the greatest achievements of American enterprise. Why this complete right about face? When does success become sinister?

The trouble is just this: Rabiner got caught. If Rabiner had not been caught, his activities would not be sinsiter. The judge would not have said a word about the poor widows who were losing every cent in their efforts to reap to fruits of individual enterprise. If Mr. war, have been writing articles to show that Rabiner had succeeded in escaping for a num- Soviet Russia and the Communist Party of ber of years longer, who knows what he might have been given the job of Secretary of United States Treasury. Just as a helpful suggestion to members of what will go down in history as the "Teapot cabinet," we quote the following from one of George Ade's Fables in Slang:

"One time an investigating committee was about to Get Something On Him for Dallying with the Profiteers, but he Donned a Fresh White Tie and made a ech about Our Heroic Dead on a Hunared Battlefields and most everyone said that such a Thunderous Patriot could not hand. They showed by their threat to have Primoff withdrawn as a delegate from one of the Fed-eral Employes' Unions, that they believe in democracy only when it serves the interests of the exploiters and enemies of labor.
