

Three Principles of the Program of Action

By WILLIAM Z. FOSTER.

THE development of the Workers Party into a mass Communist Party is a tremendous task, one that calls for the exercise of the utmost intelligence, militancy and courage of the whole membership. The work of party building must be carried on much more planfully, continuously, and determinedly than is now the case. There is far too much sluggishness, too many lackadaisical methods in existence at present. The sooner our party gets rid of these evidences of youthfulness the sooner it will lay the basis for a real organization.

In the program of action, recently adopted by the Central Executive Committee and then laid before the membership as a whole, there is offered the means to develop our party along the way it must go if it is to take on the ideology, structure, and functions of a real Communist mass party. The party units, high and low, should study this program carefully and put its provisions diligently into effect.

Three principles of the program of action deserve especially to be called to the attention of the membership. These are, (a) the concept of a balanced program of work; (b) the creation of the machinery necessary to get this work accomplished; (c) the means to make this machinery actually work. The first deals with the ideology, the second with the structure, and the third with the functioning of the party. Let us consider these principles one at a time:

A Balanced Program of Work.

Because of the complexities of modern social organization, the Communist Party perforce must carry on activities simultaneously in many spheres. This necessity is seen best expressed, of course, where the party is in power. Then it has to supervise and direct every living institution, including the government, the industies, agriculture, the army, the trade unions, the schools, the co-operatives, etc., etc. The party must have the breadth of vision not only to develop proper policies for all these institutions, but also to put them into effect simultaneously and continuously. Great injury, if not actual disaster, results if any of these urgent tasks are neglected.

Even under capitalism the need for a highly diversified activity exists, altho naturally upon a minor scale than in a proletarian society. Our party is confronted with a multitude of tasks, all imperatively demanding attention. It must, of course, wage a militant struggle against capitalism at all points, including the carrying on of vigorous election campaigns, creation of united fronts around burning poli-whether these in given instances be and educating itself and the masses, a big committee to build up the meetpaper, the organizing of labor parties, or the carrying on of trade union Party.

work, and to disregard everything else. Consequently, vitally necessary work is not done. The final effect is that as a whole the party has neglected many of its most urgent tasks, including the bringing in of new members and the education of the membership at large. The tendency to quite marked, only a very small percentage of the members taking any interest or part in it whatever. Naturally, the party suffers from this tendency to neglect necessary work; it fails to properly exploit the opporrounded mass organization.

of action aims to correct this evil by educating the party to the necessity or a committee must be charged with the maintenance of some struggling it will begin to make real strides to- ing. This committee, headed by J. W. words its goal of a mass Communist Johnstone, hired the Coliseum, the

The Necessary Machinery.

It is not enough, however, that the membership be educated to the necessity for activity in all the fields above indicated and then equipped with the necessary policies. The party must also be organized to put these policies into effect. This the Program of Acneglect the industrial work is also tion proposes to accomplish thru a series of committees for its various policies.

For an organization, whether it is the W. P., a trade union, or whatnot, to legislate without creating the machinery necessary to carry out its detunity to develop itself into a well- cisions is futile. Nothing is accomplished. Everyone engaged in any A leading principle of the program kind of organized activity knows this well. To get results an individual for carrying on work systematically the responsibility. The mass cannot biggest hall in Chicago, got a speaker of national repute, and advertised the meeting widely. Result, 20,000 people in attendance and one of the greatest labor meetings in the history of Chicago. Organization got results.

Many examples such as the foregoing could be cited to show the value of committee organization. But they are needless. Recognizing the principle involved, the Program of Action provides organization for each of its policies. In the C. E. C. some one member or committee will be held responsible for the enforcement of each policy. The same principle shall apply in the C. C. C.'s, D. E. C.'s, and local branches. All shall have their committees on the election campaign, industrial work, membership, DAILY WORKER, education, and unemployment. In the smaller branches of 25 or less, every member should be attached to some committee. Only in this manner can results be achieved with the Party policies. The Workers Party must not remain an amorphous mass; it must become an organized body which actually brings the membership directly into the Party work. The Program of Action provides the way. By now every unit of the Party should have the necessary committees organized to apply the several policies of the Program of Action.

Making the Machinery Work.

But the setting up of the essential committees is not enough in itself. Such machinery must be made to work. This is a very important consideration provided for in the Program of Action.

Every one with experience in organization work knows that often committees are created which do nothing. Such committees instead of being a help, hinder even the slight degree of action that would take place without them. They are a delusion and a snare. Hence, the units of our Party must not only establish the necessary committees, but they must see to it that they actually function and are the means of drawing the mass into the work.

For thus porpose the Program of Action proposes that all committees and individuals who are instructed to direct the work of applying the policies shall be required to report regularly to the units commissioning them. In the C. E. C., the various committees must report from time to time relative to the progress that is being made in working out the policies which they are specializing in. The District Organizers shall also sub-

WHEN YOU ARE CALLED UPON TO CELEBRATE

"DEFENSE DAY"_

tical issues, leading of strikes, warring against the reactionary union bureaucracy, organizing the unorganized, establishing shop committees, defending class war prisoners, etc.,

Remember the Results of the Last War!

organized. A case in point: Several years ago the Chicago Federation of Labor voted to hold a mass meeting for Tom Mooney. Ed Nockels went at the job in the usual unorganized way that prevailed in the federation.

He merely sent out a letter to the affiliated local unions inviting their members to attend the meeting.

These letters met the customary fate of such communications, winding up mostly in the unions' waste baskets.

Consequently the meeting was a complete failure, not over 200 workers attending. Indignant at this typical failure, the rebel delegates in the federation determined to really organize a Mooney meeting. They had the federation adopt another motion for a mit regular reports to the C. E. C. as to what is being done in their districts to enforce the Program of Action. Following out this principle, the D. E. C.'s, C. C. C.'s, and local branches must likewise insist upon periodical reports from the committees they have appointed on the Party policies. To simply appoint committees and then to let them vegetate is futile. The success of the Program of Action depends upon a constant check being kept upon its series of committees.

In addition to being a fighting movement, the Communist Party must be a working movement. Every member must be a militant, an eager toiler in the cause. Mere dues payers and card carriers are of little or no value to our Party. The time will come, with our growing power and prestige, when they will be weeded out as useless lumber. The Communist move-(Continued on page 5.)

etc. But while the party is waging this struggle, which is its reason for and continuously in all the fields open | lead itself spontaneously. It must be to it, and then to provide the necesbeing, it must not forget the vital sary policies for such work. The sevtasks of educating its membership, of en policies of the program of action, utilizing every possible opportunity including the election campaign, into attract sympathetic working class tensification of the trade union work, elements into the party, of re-organthe membership drive, the DAILY izing itself upon the basis of shop WORKER drive, the reorganization nuclei, of building the party press. of the party upon the basis of the etc., etc. In short, we must not only shop nuclei, the organization of the use the party continuously in the unemployed, and the extension of the class war, but we must also carry educational work, constitute a balon continuously the process of anced program of work correspondstrengthening it numerically and ideing to the most necessary tasks now ologically. confronting our party. If the member-

Unfortunately our party membership can be educated into applying ship has not yet reached the point these policies vigorously then the where it realizes the necessity for power and influence of the Workers such continuous work on all the Party will be enormously increased. fronts of party activity. A most de- Advancing on all fronts simultaneouscided tendency is for the members to ly, fighting the capitalists on the poli- meeting, over the protest of Nockels ment is a poor resting place for concentrate upon certain issues, tical and industrial fields, organizing and Fitzpatrick. Then they created of the universe (no longer idly adored as holy mystery) are being utilized for common drudge's sake. A socio-political metamorphosis is everywhere fermenting. Socialism has leaped to the front. These rattling changes have necessitated a newer culture: The socio-scientific or sociologic culture. By a series of terribly wasteful conflcts, the dawning culture has emerged partly triumphant, shining too often by the reflected light of the older resistant cultures . . .

Though Professor James Harvey Robinson smartly defines theology as an imaginary subject, many intelligent persons still cling lovingly to its consoling mysteries. Mystery worship maketh ignorance at home in a hos- try. Thirdly comes the physical sci- little heads about the will of God. tile world! Metaphysics is still the exclusive delight of those merry men who are so bored by the sordid problems of workaday life that they needs must romp and frisk in the green fields of El Dorado. They "corrupt" youth by shunting its limited capabilities from immediate intelligible things to remote, largely meaningless abstractions. Still, peace be with them! Bad habits do not die in a day.

The ancient linguistic culture has so demoralized the educated snobs, they actually believe science to be of secondary,-possibly tertiary,-importance in a well-balanced curriculum. Schopenhauer made the hysterical prophecy that the world of culture was committing suicide by permitting the supersession of Latin and Greek by "modern" languages. He forgot that before Greek and Latin had become transcendent cultures, great civilizations had flourished and vanished, like the Minoan in Crete, the Hittite, Egyptian, Babylonian, Aztec, et. al. What exasperating nonsense it is to claim that there is only one royal road to Salvation by Culture. A scholar may be chock full of linguistics and yet be a pathetic dullard in analyzing his own emotions and prepossessions. What a babbling incompetent such a scholar really is. More poetry, more drama, more knowledge, more reverence and wisdom are to be culled from the study of embryology or geology or any other of the marvelously stimulating ologies than the most incorrigible linquist could ever garner from his worshipful, memoriter studies. Languages should not only not be studied as desiderata "per se," but solely as aids understanding the scientific to achievements of man. The whole evolution of life is our star witness to prove that language stumbled into the world as an aid to recording and facilitating useful inventions. Language itself is a useful invention. Excessive leizure, dwelling on a mount of security, remote from the ship by its too exclusive worship of its useful generalizations then you is the striving for perfection. (I His own poignant confession that THE INDUSTRIAL REVOLUTION touch at once upon so-called "applied" has turned life topsy-turvy. science, i. e. industrialized science. Haughty culture has performed sev- (Huxley objected vigorously to the areral interesting gyrations, feebler tificial separation of these aspects of terms). "Perfection" is so imperfect bruised fellows is the humane counand feebler as its strength was being science because as he clearly pointed sapped by numerous collisions and out, the laws of science are prerequihumdrum needs. Experimental sci- site for any intelligent improvement ence has gained apace. The marvels in the processes of manufacture. Theory and practice are not opposed but supplementary). When you have touched upon science in industry, you have opened the first gate that leads to social science. The interdependence of the physical, industrial and social sciences is abundantly clear. Our high school and college curicula must take their clue from life's needs and establish numerous courses in these useful knowledges. Sociological loved Quietists! What more noble, subjects should be centralized as containing those vital problems of our social life which the critically active citizen must understand in order to the bungling world of man had serve the collectivity, usefully. In- enough bitter fun out of the sport of dustrial science courses deservedly come next as providing an intelligent of God? Even the shrewdest attorappreciation of the co-relation beappreciation of the co-relation be-tween science and productive indus-lessly confused. Let's not bother our should like to add that the first need he could not endure the very light of of any culture is a striving for per- day nor paint nor enjoy the passing fection in its choice of intelligible hour because of the distress of his a symbol of each man's conceit that terpart of the sociological culture; a we get nowhere by employing it. . To culture which worries its head over strive for "Sweetness of Light" is not objectionable if, seduced by that squanders a leizure hour with paeans idealization, you do not blunder into to bygone ages, dead philosophers and asking energetic human beings like their deader philosophies. Ruskin's Tolstoi, Nietzsche, Voltaire and Heine lectures to the workingmen on their to bow down to the prejudices of their contemporaries for the sake of lems marked the turning point in cul-"Peace, brother, peace." No, sir. The world is desperately in need of aggressive radicals, muckrakers, fearless fighters, iconoclasts, Sweetness and light must wait yet awhile, bebut more silly ideal, than Arnold's: "Culture should seek to make reason and the will of God prevail." Hasn't trying to decipher the will and codicil living proletarians and incidentally own homely (bread and butter) probture's evolution. Soulessness of antecedent cultures broke Ruskin's heart with the bitter knowledge of their wilful irrelevancy, their contemptuous unconcern for the uncultured. The loving admiration bestowed by the quickened common people on Thomas Huxley was another tribute to the efficacy of the newer democratic culture. . . . Speaking of Savants and Amelioration, I recall with delight Monsieur Berthelot's great view of duty. In "Some New Conceptions of Science," Carl Snyder gives us a fine pen-portrait of one of our most genuine humanitarians:

The New Culture

By a Teacher

"He answers to the fine conception he himself drew, when, a few days later, he stood in the great hall of the Sorbonne. It is not, he said, 'For the egotistical satisfaction of our private vanities that the world today render's homage to the savant. No! It is because the savant worthy of the name consecrates a disinterested life to the grand work of our epoch: I mean the amelioration-too slow, alas, to our view-of the lot of all, from the rich and the happy to the humble, the poor and suffering. That was what was implied by the public nine years ago in this same hall, in honoring Pasteur. It is what my friend Chaplain has endeavored to express on the beautiful plaque which the President of the Republic is about to offer me. I do not know if I have completely filled the noble ideal which the artist has here delineated, but I have tried, at least, to make this the object and end, the directing purpose of my existence."

Superior brains had actually become ashamed of its quondam ineffectual intellectuality. It essayed the great experiment of the ages: To discover what latent powers "inferior" men possessed, what development they were capable of inaugurating, what response they could make to "higher" appeals. This experiment is now in process.

Those who sympathize with the masses are unanimous in their desire to experiment some more; not to cease, until every available electron of superior talent has been given off to polarize the minds of common men. These experiments in democratic culture are the hope and inspiration of our age; the generous endeavors of a richly scientific epoch. The reader may remember the apt illustration in Maeterlinck's "Wisdom and Destiny" of what may be called the telescopic and microscopic views of life. Two men were strolling peripatetically along golden fields of wheat when in the distance they espied peasants laboring. The rhythmic sway of hands, the lovely undu-

SO FAR IT'S DONE!

By Oskar Kanehl.

Who console still: the time will come? So far it's done. The white muskets are willing to shoot. The white bayonets are willing to spit brute. The white horror cries for blood. Prolet, guard up!

Who console still: the time will come? So far it's done. The generals are commanding. The gold-larded mercenaries are obeying. The fascisti-pack goes off set-te. Prolet, and you?

Who console still: the time will come? So far it's done. The misery blooms on palid lips. The hunger grins through your naked ribs. If you duck, it's too late. Riot, prolet!

Who console still: the time will come? So far it's done. The capital panders to every vice. The working bees on the pavement he drives. Behind you is barred the way. What do you delay?

Who console still: the time will come? So far it's done. Dead or slave? What like you rather? Clear stand master and servant against each other. For last assault. To fire go on! So far it's done.

Translated by Paul Acel.

ence group with its study of the large | He has ample time for that amuseof science. As Tyndall (in his historsires not isolation, but freely com bettering of man's estate. If the time was something sacred to him. He real-now devoted to languages (especially ized that "the sweetness and light of afflicted vulgus, prostituted scholar- ancient) and mathematics and other the few must be imperfect until the "cultural" odds and ends were trans- raw and unkindled masses of human- lations of bodies.

assumptions and fruitful hypothesis ment Himself. Why mar His pleasure? We must not be too severe ic Belfast Address) said: "Science de- with the noble Arnold: He was limited by his own ignorance of science. bines with every effort toward the His ideal, tho vague and incoherent,

Our immediate inference is that the logic of culture's evolution unmistal ably points to the ascendency of socio-scientific culture, (Professo Robinson called it anthropological), a the best adapted to an understandin of the age in which we live. Shorth we shall witness in high school an college (later in university and elu mentary school) a radical change it curriculum. There will be either n absolutely required subjects at all o more probably social sciences will b gladly accepted in lieu of linguistics We shall all learn as of necessity to orient ourselves in our new culture spheres. And the generations to com will be equipped to be critically activ citizens in a vital social democracy. The sociologic culture consists of three interrelated branches: the phy sical-scientific. Ne sooner have you	voutly to be striven for! To under- stand one's own passionate age is task enough for the best brains. Why saddle the younger generation with the irrelevant culture of the "dark" ages? The scholarly Bernard Shaw has autobiographed the following: "I deal with all periods; but I never study any period but the present, which I have not yet mastered and never shall." Is there not a lament- able lack of Humor's common sense in the minds of those haughty cultur- ists who desire our "educated" youth to understand Greek and Roman cul- tures, to boot?	He believed naively enough that the acquisition of culture, "the pas- sion to make the best that has been thought and known in the world cur- rent everywhere," would do away with classes! He had never pondered the iron historic truth that no "su- perior" class has ever voluntarily yielded any of its prerogatives to other less fortunately-circumstanced groups. Enough of haughty culture! It has been a failure: An obstacle to the progress of the disinherited. Ruskin's passion for human service lucidly discerned the inadequacy of a hothouse culture in a world like ours. He understood profoundly what Ar- nold wrote superficially and senti- mentally: "We are here as on a darkling plain, Swept by confused alarms of struggle and flight, Whare ignorant armies clash by	ly in the sum—what poetry in that labor of love. This the long-distance view! But oh, what sadness of mien, what tragic ignorance of speech, what ignoble bent backs, as the space was foreshortened and the short distance view clarified the vi- sion. The microscope is more depend- able than the telescope! It probes mysteries more searchingly, more ac- curately. And yet our perverse hu- man minds are set in the very op- posite bent. We love to prattle about the moon long before we have any knowledge about Mother Earth. Strange lands are more fascinating far than our own countries. The prophet is appreciated in all lands, but his own. Distance lends enchant- ment. The upshot of our perverse- ness is that we love to meddle with all manner of things and interests provided they tanteling the more fascinating
--	---	---	--

Nations and Colonies By P. MANUILSKY

REPORT TO THE FIFTH CONGRESS OF THE COMMUNIST INTERNATIONAL

(Continued from previous issue) The many mistakes made by the various Sections of the Comintern in connection with this question are due to the fact that many of our comrades are not yet rid of social democratic ideology. These mistakes can be said letariat of the Balkan countries to to make a social revolution if these to be of four fundamental types, all stand up for Macedonian independ- 250,000 are on the other side of the the earth's surface. Do our English of which are survivals of the attitude ence. The Greek Communist Party of the Second International on the not only did not publish this maninational question. The first type of these mistakes is personified in the attitude of some Yugo-Slavian comrades, especially of comrades Sima the Balkan Federation. Markovitch and Miliokovitch who are now in prison. I have already given you foures of the national composition of the Yugo-Slavian Communist Party. And yet, according to the opinions of comrades Markovitch and school. Miliokovitch the national question in Serbia is a purely bourgeois invention. According to comrade Markovitch the question as to whether Serbs, Croats, and Slovenes are three nations or one, is only a purely theoretical question which should not influence the practical policy of the party. Comrade Milikovitch goes even further than that. He aserts that in Yugo-Slavia there are no nations, but only linguistic differentations. In his pamphlet "National Question in the Light of Marxism" and in a number of articles published in the organ of the Yugo-Slavian Communist Parties, "Radnik," Comrade Markovitch brings forward, as a practical slogan for the Communist Party, the fight for the revision of the constitution, that is to say, he places the whole question of national self-determination on a constitutional basis. Very characteristic is Comrade Markovitch's attitude towards the Macedonian question. You know that Macedonia plays at present, after its partition between Serbs, Greeks and Bulgarians, the very same role in the Balkans that the Balkans play in Europe. A fierce fight is being waged around Macedonia, and especially around the question of an outlet into the Aegean Sea and the fight for the port of Salonica between the small robbers in the Balkans. At the same time, there is in Macedonia a strong national movement for the re-establishment of an independent state. What is Comrade Markovitch's attituude to this national movement? In his articles he expresses the opinion that the Macedonian question is not by any means a Balkan but a European problem, which cannot therefore be finally solved before a victory of the European proletariat over the bourgeoisie has been achieved. If the question is put in this way, what will be the result? Only a passive attitude of the Communist Party to one of the most burning questions which are agitating the various Balkan nationalities at present. A careful study of the situation will show you that the origin of this kind of view is to be sought in the Second international.

Slavian comrades. Similar mistakes, imperialism? You, French comrades, proletariat would never succeed in festo, but even sent a reasoned protest against the issue of such a document by the Executive Committee of

Where, I ask you, should we search for the cause of such a state of mind? Undoubtedly in the survivals of the views which at that time were energetically expounded by the Austrian up with certain traces of social imper- party. I will cite a certain fact which ialism. As the Austrian school in on the surface may seem to be quite the course of the European war stood unimportant, but which is extraordifor the recognition of the integrity of narily indicative of the psychology of are made by our Greek comrades in have 800,000 native workers in France. destroying the powerful capitalist orconnection with the Macedonian ques- I ask you, what have you done to or- ganism of the British Empire without tion. A few months ago, when an ganize these workers, to prepare revo the support of those peoples suparmed conflict seemed imminent in lutionary agitators for the colonies pressed by the English Lords. These the Balkans, the Executive Committee from among their ranks? In your of the Balkan Federation issued a army there are 250,000 black soldiers. manifesto which called upon the pro- Do you think that you will be able barricades? Will your working class be able to win a single strike if the bourgeoisie have at their disposal these black reserve troops which they can incite at any minute against your heroic proletariat? Have you carried on any anti-militaristic propaganda among these black troops? (From the French section: Yes. Yes. Yes.)

serious documentary proof of it. I do know that we must wage a vigor.

Colonial Slaves in India in the Service of British Imperialism.

the Austrian boundaries, so the Ger- our parties. During the Lyons Conman social-imperialistic school of gress the Comintern addressed an ap-Cuno and Pepcha and the rest started peal to the French workers and the from the conception of a state in colonial peoples. The editors of the which the productive forces had out Central organ of the party, "Humagrown the limits of the country. This nite," in publishing the appeal delibschool approaches the position of the erately cut out from the text the obscure Dutch Social colonizer. Van- words "to the colonial peoples." Is Kolya, who at one of the International it possible for a party having an at-Congresses of the Second Interna- titude like this to carry on propational recommended that each social ganda among the "natives"? I heartthis viewpoint even finds reflection in greatly from the dead leader of the the political conclusions of certain French Socialist Party in both theory individual party members. About a and practice. Jaures was a pacifist; year ago the Comintern addressed an he personified all the genius and all twrs. When this appeal reached one But anyone who remembers those of the Communist sections of the years which preceded the war knows ist party should formulate its own ily wish that in this question at least colonial policy. However distressing the French Party would return to it may be to admit it, we find that the traditions of Jaures. We differ appeal to the colonial slaves, calling on the weakness of a whole epoch in the them to revolt against their subjuga- development of the labor movement. French Communist Party in Algiers, that Jaures always expressed himself Sidi Bel-Abes, that section passed a firmly and decisively against the co-Markovitch holds the view that the resolution condemning such appeals lonial adventures undertaken by the projetariat must accept the bourgeois of the Comintern to peoples of an-French government. You remember words were uttered many years ago when the British Empire did not yet represent so great a colonial power in the world, occupying one-third of comrades think that the revolutionary process begins with the English proletariat liberating itself, and then in the capacity of a Messiah, carrying deliverance to the colonial peoples? We do not think so,

In none of the documents on the relations of the British Communist Party to the colonies which have been No. No I do not know of a single brot to us for perusal have we found a single declaration in which our British comrades have clearly and unmis-The second type of mistake is bound ous fight against this attitude in the takably demanded the separation of the colonies from the British Empire. Show us the documents in which you have defended Ireland's right to independence. And yet there are constant opportunities for declarations of this kind. Since the labor government of MacDonald has been in power you have not taken advantage of a single opportunity to bring this question before the proletariat of your country. Under the labor government the oppressive burden of British imperialism weighs down the colonies as it did before. Lord Reading, the celebrated hangman of British India, the same viceroy under whom the famous trials were conducted against even such moderate revolutionists as Ghandi, the Brothers Ali, and others, remains intact in his post. MacDonald's government has not taken the trouble even to replace the 300,000 bureaucrats who are ruling over the population of British India. Where is your fighting spirit, English comrades? Where is your readiness to carry a decisive struggle for freedom into the most far-flung corners of India?

The Russian comrades are grateful to you for launching the slogan "Hands Off Soviet Russia!" at the time of the armed intervention of Russia. But the entire International would rejoice even more if you were now to launch another no less courageous call: "Hands Off the Colonies."

3. To the third class of mistake belong those connected with the theory of Rosa Luxemburg. Rosa Luxemburg's viewpoint might be characterized as the theory of national nihilism. Rosa Luxemburg based her theory on the assumption that in the imperialist epoch every national movement is inevitably doomed to be used by the imperialist powers in their own interests. Therefore Rosa Luxemburg believed that the proletarian party should eradicate from its program the clause relating to the self-determination of peoples. Just as Cano's theory of government represented the latest phase in the development of imperialism, so Rosa Luxemburg's theory proletariat must accept the bourgeois state such as it has been created by perialism. a series of wars and violations. We find signs of this theory in the inter-In its declaration this section expretation of the national question by pressed great agitation over the fact the "famous" Austrian school of thot. that at the very moment when the (Otto Bauer and Renner). In connecnoble French nation was bringing tion with the national question this civilization to the colonies, the organ-Austrian school of thot insisted on the ization of the international working preservation of the frontiers of the class should appear, calling on the former Austrian Empire at all cost. colonial people to answer the benevo-Therefore, the entire national queslent efforts of the French colonizers tion resolved itself for this school of with black ingratitude. (Laughter.) thot in a country with as many na-I ask the French comrades whether tionalities as the former Austro-Hunthese possibly excellent Frenchmen, gary, into a fight for the revision of but very indifferent Communists have the constitution. Comrades, we know been excluded from the party. I take that our Russian school of thot on the national question declared war to the those comrades the whereabouts of knife on the Austrian school of thot on that question. And nevertheless, Communist Party loudly proclaimed after our polemics with Otto Bauer and after the Communist International colonies. (Sellier interrupts: "In the has been in existence five years, we program of the Party.") Where are other race exploited by French im- what a courageous campaign Jaures conducted at the time of the Moroccan adventure which threatened to bathe all Europe in blood. I will cite one more fact from recent events. Not long ago general elections were held in your country, comrades from France. Why was there not a single native among the seven candidates alletted to the colonies? Why could you find only representatives of the ruling race who have stirred up general indignation against themselves, to act as candidates for the colonies?

Still greater reproach is due to our English comrades for their passivity European comrades to realize that we the liberty of inquiring further of in the matter of colonial propaganda. are still not quite free from the influ-The British comrades represent a proence of Rosa Luxemburg's views. I those documents in which the French letariat more infected with colonial have already cited the resolution of grejudices than all others in the the Yugo-Slavian comrades who subthe slogan of the separation of the Comintern. Marx once wrote on the ordinate the self-determination of question of Irish independence that peoples to the victory of the prolethe English workers would never be tariat in the Balkans and thruout Euwitness a revival of the views of this your declarations supporting the lib- free until Ireland was free. Marx rope. A still clearer reflection of Austrian school among our Yugo eration of the colonies from French understood very well that the Britisht (Continued on Page 6) represented the childhood stage of the labor movement when the question of the seizure of power seemed a far off problem to the working class.

It was only the Leninist Bolshevist school which put forward the question of the seizure of power as a question of the present day, and which was able to connect this problem with the interests of those millions who represent the intermediate stage in the social mechanism and on whose behavior depends, in the last analysis, the victory of the proletarian revolution. We have only to examine some of the resolutions on tactics of our movement of Great Britain is only ble positions of leadership, men of in the Chicago Federation of Labor the beginning of a Left Wing, the the type of A. A. Purcell, Will Law- which has the "progressive" Fitzpatfirst move in the right direction. But ther, Robert Williams, who refuse to rick at its head, and in many other because it is based on the awakening be classified in the same category similar organizations. The same thing rank and file, and is prompted to action by the ever-sharpening critical son type and who are accepted by the unions of Great Britain. position of British Imperialism, and rank and file as something different because it is inspired by the ideals of and better than these reactionaries. the revolutionary class struggle, this British Left Wing is headed directly larly if we add to our reasoning a upon this crystallization of a definite towards victory all along the line in little of our actual experience in build- left wing in the British trade unions the not very distant future. We refer ing the left wing in the American was the illusion of MacDonaldism. here to the National Conference of trade-unions, that the presence of What was it? the revolutionary minorities in the such a group of "progressive" leaders British trade unions recently held in England.

The British Left Wing By Alexander Bittelman

The Illusions of "Progressivism."

Many have been wondering at this side of the ocean, as to why this Britcrystallizing, so late in coming. In ing the question: How is it that the not make themselves felt in the tant Left Wing?

The answer was, it is hard to tell. On the one hand, conditions in Engish trade unions actually going backwards, losing membership, prestige and power? Didn't we see a, whole defeat because of lack of centralized British trade union movement.

were in the British trade-unions (and ize its ideology and organization, to act. And as a result of all this, the T is true that what we are witness-still are) the so-called "progressives," That's what is happening in the beginning of a definite, militant Left ing at present in the trade union many of them holding very responsi- Amalgamated Clothing Workers, and Wing in the British trade-unions. with the reactionaries of the Hender- is beginning to happen in the trade

> Now, it stands to reason, particu- erted a powerful deterent influence would, as a rule, tend to deter and to ing of Christ. It was the ardent hope hamper the crystallization and devel- of the masses that when the Labor opment of a militant Left Wing.

Just one little illustration. If we something to make life better, easier at the Congress of the Transport ask ourselves, where was it, in what and more secure. That's what it was. ish left wing was so terribly slow in particular union did it happen that That's what we call the illusion of we found the most difficulties in crysour own party, many have been ask tallizing and organizing a definite left wing? the answer will be; in those this state of mind of the British British militants and Communists do unions that are being led by a so- masses meant for the development of called "progressive" leadership. Take, a Left Wing. It meant a state of trade unions? Why don't they or for example, the Amalgamated Clothganize? Why don't they fight. Aren't ing Workers of America (A. C. W. A.). with the evils of the official trade unconditions ripe for a successful mili- Its president is Sidney Hillman, a ion leadership. Why? Because, well, "progressive." Its secretary is Joseph because whatever is wrong with the Schlossberg, a man of still more pro- trade unions will surely be corrected ing class is at last beginning to move. nounced "progressive" tendencies. when we get a Labor government; be land seemed to be over-ripe, rotten- This "progressive" leadership, what- cause whatever we fail to get thru ripe for such a left-wing to come into ever its real nature, does one thing the trade unions will certainly be existence. For didn't we see the Brit- effectively, it breeds illusions in the given to us by a Labor government, rank and file, it makes the workers and because the Labor government, believe (for a time, at least) in its being our government, will surely sincerity and ability to do things for stand by the unions with all the treseries of strikes broken and the them, to move ahead, and to meet suc- mendous powers of the state in any a result of pressure-constant presworkers driven back to the shops in cessfully the new problems of the conflict between ourselves and the sure by the rank and file. All the imclass struggle. What happens, under capitalists. Just wait till the Labor portant decisions of the Trade Union organization and militant leadership? such conditions, is this, that before a government gets into power! And And, lastly, did we not hear of a left wing can begin making real head- don't do anything to spoil its chances! paper they were written on, if there wave of "unofficial" (we call them way in an organization which is led outlaw) strikes having taken place in by "progressives," the rank and file be very difficult, indeed, to arouse the rank and file organization, to compel England in recent months in opposi- must pass thru a period of at least masses to militant action of any and to drive to action. Fortunately tion to and in defiance of the ex- partial disillusionment in the suffici- kind. But now the Labor governpresse will of the official leadership? ency of "progressivism." When the ment is here. MacDonald has been for the working class the world over All of which would seem to indicate rank and file has had a chance to in power for quite some time. His such a Left Wing has begun to crysto us that the conditions were all learn the true value of its "progres- government has begun to show itself tallize. The recent Conference of the there for a left wing to make its ap sive" leadership, it is then that the up for allvit is worth. Hence, the be revolutionary minorities in the British pearance and, by organized effort, to rank and file becomes ripe for the ginning of disillusionment in MacDon- trade unions has laid the basis and attempt to bring back to life the acceptance of the militant policies of aldism. Hence, a gradual change of has created the machinery for the

The Illusions of MacDonaldism.

Another factor that undoubtedly ex-

It was the belief in the second com-Party comes into power it will do Robert Williams speaks in Hamburg, MacDonaldism.

Now, one has got to realize what comparative tolerance and patience With such a state of mind it should is no militant Left Wing, based upon the left wing. And it is then also mind and spirit of the rank and file, successful development of such a But then, on the other hand, there that a left wing can definitely crystal- a strong urge to move, to organize and Left Wing.

Symptoms of Awakening. That we are dealing here with a new spirit in the ranks of British Labor can be seen from the fact that even the so-called "progressives" felt compelled to assume a somewhat more aggressive and militant position. When we saw the British delegation at the Vienna Conference of the Amsterdam International (held recently) demand an understanding with the Red Labor Union International (R. I. L. U.), we knew the reason. It was because of the restlessness and demand for action by the rank and file. When we find that Workers' International, in favor of joining hands with the Russian unions, we know where to locate the cause: the British rank and file. And when we see the British trade Union Congress, in session at Hull, granting more power to its General Council, authorizing it to call general strikes, and framing all kinds of demands upon the capitalists and the government, we know that the British work-And in order that there be no misunderstanding, we want to say right here that we have very little trust in the ability of the British "progressives" to assume leadership of a real militant movement. Even if they go along for a while, it will be only as Congress at Hull will not be worth the for the British Labor movement and

Political Horse Thief Confesses

To call a man a horse thief is a serious charge. To accuse a man of a foolhardy venture. But when the horse thief admits his guilt, no further prof is necessary and the only thing left is to pronounce sentence.

The Communists have repeatedly the following: accused the socialists of the world and those of Europe in particular of being the agents of capitalism. Since the Dawes plan was framed and the leadership of the capitalist forces that urged its adoption was handed over to thing lacking. That was a confession gives us joy.) of guilt. Well, it has come at last.

praise on the socialist midwife.

ing in windy threats against the ferocious Dawes, for his slam at the sothe hand that feeds you" spirit pens ernments of Europe, if it had not been ful servants of capitalism stepped up for the socialists." the socialists, the Communists charg- Communist villians that we are, this es were supported by overwhelming catching of a yellow socialist, politic- prevent war. evidence. But yet, there was some- ally shirtless in the market place it because it gave them a chance to the House of Morgan figures. It will The political horse thief, at his force European imperialism under the be a peace plan without the House of wit's end to get out of a nasty mess, yoke of American bankers. This was Morgan and without Wall Street genbeing a horse thief without sufficient prepares a careful confession. After the only available way to prevent the erals. . . . Thanks to the Dawes plan, evidence to back up the accusation is beating around the bush and indulg- European imperialists from starting socialism will triumph, first over Euranother war right away."

The editor proceeds with the con- in order to cloud their intentio

This is where the editorial apologist cialists, the Leader in a "don't bite knocks Harry Thaw's "rabbit" dissertation for a head full of ossified brains. The capitalists feared that Communists is hereby admitted by the "We call the general's attention another war would spell their doom. daily organ of the socialist party of right at the start to the important Therefore they hatched the Dawes fact, that the experts' plan would plan to prevent a war or at the worst demned out of their own mouths, but never have been adopted by the gov- postpone it and the socialists, faith- the sentence cannot be yet r ndered. (Bold face ours. and told the workers that the Dawes plan would bring them prosperity and light.

By T. J. O'FLAHERTY

ope then over American capitalism."

The culprit began by admitting that the socialists were the tools of Wall Street. The oft-made charge of the America. The socialists are con-The betrayed workers of Europe will deliver it some day and it will not be

Meanwhile Victor Berger is ham-The scheme worked. Sending the mering away at the Dawes plan in his socialists forward as a smoke screen daily column on the front page of bece of journalism seen by the writer since the notorious Harry K. Thaw gave his famous "rabbit" interview to the newspapers after his successful fight to dodge the insane asylum, Victor Berger's Milwaukee Leader in its issue of Sept. 3, admits that but for the socialists of Europe the Dawes Plan would now be as dead as the shin bone of Saint Anne, yet attempts to justify this act of treason to the working class. Berger has bitterly atacked the Dawes plan since it was first broached. So have many of LaFollette's supporters. Denunciation of the Dawes plan was usually mixed with euloiges of James Ramsay MacDonald, the plan's chief midwife. Suddenly it fought the plan to the last ditch. It would never have become the basic for further working class. fought the plan to the last ditch. It would never have become the basic for further working class. fought the plan to the last ditch. It would never have become the basic for further working class. fought the plan to the last ditch. It would never have become the basic for further working class. fought the plan to the last ditch. It would never have become the basic for further working class. fought the plan to the last ditch. It would never have become the basic for further base of the confession His protection of the plan's chief midwife. Suddenly it 	This is a confession with a ven- gence. But every cloud has a silver the ways of the Lord. The Leader continuous. It is now in the field of prophecy:	socialism. European socialists are surely a pack of accomplished traitors. Am- erican socialists, like Barkis in the Dickens novel are also "willin'" but in addition they seem to be candidates for the madhouse. Socialist PREMIER'S SON PRESENTED TO STRIKEBREAKER CAL WASHINGTON, Sept. 12. — Mal- colm MacDonald, son of Premier MacDonald, of Great Britain, was presented to President Coolidge to- day by Secretary of State Hughes. Young MacDonald is in the United

--	---	--

Foreign Policies of British Government

By KARL RADEK II.

The Policy of the English Labor Government

The policy of the English Labor Government regarding the Reparations Question is pursuing the same ends as those which the Lloyd George and the Baldwin cabinet pursued. These aims are: Stabilization of European capitalism in order to restore the European markets, reduction of expenditure on armaments, limitation of the possibility of the restoration of Germany as a strong competitor, removal of the danger of an economic and military hegemony on the part of France. The policy of the labor government differs very little in its methods from the policy of the preceding cabinets. And even that difference in methods which is to be observed is not due to the fact that MacDonald is now occupying the position of Foreign Secretary instead of Lord Curzon, but that MacDonald came into power at a moment when France had become somewhat weakened and there was a certain change in the attitude of the United States.

In order to judge English foreign policy it is necessary to bear in mind the fundamental facts of the economic situation of England. This has considerably improved in the last year or so. The output of coal for last year amounted to 278 million ton and was only 11 million tons behind the output for 1913, the output of iron amounted to 7.04 million tons, while in 1913 it amounted to 10 million tons. The textile industry is still laboring under a crisis. This can best be seen by the fact that whilst in 1913 England imported 19 million cwts. of cotton, in 1923 she imported only about 13 million cwts. The import of wool, which in 1913 amounted to 21 million cwts. in 1923 only amounted to 7.04 million cwts. Imports of jute flax etc. fell from 600,000 tons to 265,000 tons. English foreign trade, reckoned according to the index of prices for the year 1913 affords the following picture:

	million	ice index in llion pounds sterling		Percentage compared with 1913
Imports	1923 735.7	1922 659.4	1913 768.7	1923 93	1922 85.8
British Export Re-	404.4	361.8	525.2	74.5	68.9

Exports 94.0 89.3 109.6 81.3 81.5 As is known, England has always covered the deficit in her trade balance by the interest on capital invested abroad, with income from shipping, banking etc. Unlike France she has not lost the greater portion of her capital invested abroad. This balance of so-called invisible exports, according to the figures of the Board

	illion 1913	pour 1922	nds: 1923
Income from capital in- vested abroad Income from shipping Income from banking	210 94 35	175 110 40	150 110 40
Total of invisible exports Surplus of imports	339 158	325 170	300 203
Favorable trade balance When it is remember			97 the pound has lost 42 percent			100000000
it is seen that the favor	rable	e bala	ance has decreased by 124 m	illion	1 pou	nds.

that which the editor of the "Econ-loffer resistance, have decided to take ing from England a guarantee for omist", Layton, in the discussion over an active part in European affairs the territory occupied by France and the economic position of England again. Their role as spectator dur- a pledge that she, (London "Nation" 3rd May 1924) ing the time of the Ruhr adventure France, adopts punitive measures rightly points out: That the average was an enforced one; by what means against Germany in the event of the number of the unemployed before the could they hold back France when latter failing to fulfil the obligations war amounted to 400,000.

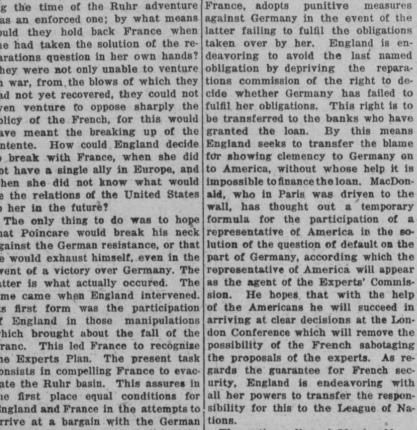

stabilised, you will be face to face to her in the future? with a real competition." Lloyd George April last, when he wrote: ment and a decrease in unemployment. Can any reasonable man how- latter is what actually occured. The the next five years."

last years that level to which it at- Franc. This led France to recognize tained as a result of the increase of the Experts Plan. The present task and her colonies. Whilst imports from uate the Ruhr basin. This assures in Europe since 1913 to 1923 have fallen the first place equal conditions for she had taken the solution of the re- taken over by her. England is en-But the English bourgeoisie are parations question in her own hands? deavoring to avoid the last named not comforting themselves with this They were not only unable to venture obligation by depriving the reparaimprovement in the economic situa- on war, from the blows of which they tions commission of the right to detion. Before all they ask what will had not yet recovered, they could not happen, if the economic power of even venture to oppose sharply the fulfil her obligations. This right is to Germany is re-established. Already policy of the French, for this would last year Lloyd George said: "If we have meant the breaking up of the granted the loan. By this means assume that the reparations question Entente. How could England decide England seeks to transfer the blame is settled to-morrow and Europe has to break with France, when she did for showing clemency to Germany on a real peace; will it bring you pro- not have a single ally in Europe, and to America, without whose help it is sperity? The moment when peace is when she did not know what would impossible to finance the loan. MacDonrestored in Europe and the valuta be the relations of the United States ald, who in Paris was driven to the referred to this question again in that Poincare would break his neck representative of America in the so-"The against the German resistance, or that lution of the question of default on the monthly surveys indicate improve he would exhaust himself, even in the part of Germany, according which the event of a victory over Germany. The ever risk his fortune and calculate time came when England intervened. that normal conditions will recur in Its first form was the participation of the Americans he will succeed in of England in those manipulations arriving at clear decisions at the Lon-English trade has maintained in the which brought about the fall of the don Conference which will remove the economic relations between England consists in compelling France to evac- gards the guarantee for French secfrom 41.6 percent to 34.01 percent, England and France in the attempts to sibility for this to the League of Nathe share of English colonies in the arrive at a bargain with the German tions.

imports have increased from 24.08 per- coal and iron kings, and abolishes the cent in 1913 to 29.07 percent in 1923. danger of the creation of a Franco-together with

The active policy of Macdonald appears in this light as the result of a weakening in the position of France and of America's participation in the solution of the reparations question.

THE COMMUNIST INTERNATIONAL LIBERATES!

Whilst the share of Europe in English | German coal and iron trust; and seleading the workers to their eventual of Trade Journal of 31st January 1924, exports has decreased from 36.09 per- condly, it reduces the pressure of goal of the Communist Revolution. is made up as follows: cent in 1913 to 35.02 percent in 1923, France upon Germany in general, the share of the colonies has risen lowers the prestige of France in Pofrom 37.2 perecent in 1913 to 39.2 per- land, Czecho-Slovakia, in Roumania Russian Dramatists cent in 1923. This was due in the and Yugoslavia, in which countries to Present Famous first place to the fact that the ex- England has recently begun very sucport of English capital was chiefly cessfully to counteract French in-directed to the colonies. In 1913 Eng-fluence. If the loan for Germany Revolutionary Play land exported capital amounting to amounting to 200 million dollars is Do you understand Russian? If you 200 million pounds, in 1922 only 150 carried out, half of which is to be do, attend the performance given by million pounds and in 1923, 130 mil- contributed by America and the other the Society for Technical Aid to Solion. ("Statist" of 5th January 1924.) half by English banks, then not only viet Russia this Sunday, Sept. 14th, at These capital sums are invested as Germany, but France also will be ren-All these figures however do not give follows: in 1913 England invested 98 dered dependent upon Anglo-saxon W. Division St a clear indication of the economic po- million pounds in foreign countries capital. The carrying out of the ex-The Russian Dramatic Players at sition of England. Prof. Bowley, the and 99 million in her own colonies; perts' plan internationalizes the Gerthe head of which is the well-known English economist, is of the opinion in 1922 foreign loans absorbed about man liabilities. Germany will not be Russian actor, Anatoly Pokatiloff, will that in 1923 England only reached 87 20 and in 1923 about 30 million pounds the debtor of France. France's place present "The Convert," a drama in percent of her pre-war production. less than colonial loans. If England will be taken by the International The "Economist" disputes these fig- desires now to participate in the res- stock exchange. France will then not four acts, from the life of the Nihilists, by the famous Russian revoluures and claims that England has toration of European economy, she be in a position to put pressure on tionary writer, Stepniak-Kravchinsky. reached 95 percent of her pre-war pro- must reduce her export of capital to Germany, to disorganize her economy duction. Keynes (in the "Nation" of the colonies which will mean reducing and by this means to limit the English Who's Next? 12th of April) agrees with the later, their purchasing power. At the same market. So soon as things are probut points out that the population has time she must reckon with the fact ceeding in this direction France will Japan announced a Defense Day for increased by 2 million. The difficul- that the industrial production of her be strongly impelled to reduce her Nov. 8th. The report says every able ties in all these calculations are best colonies is increasing and as a result, armaments. Thus reckons English capbodied man in the Japanese empire to be seen by the fact that prices of the prospect of their forming an ever- italism. will participate in a war maneuver. raw material have increased by 50 increasing market for English goods France demands as recompense for An army of 80,000 will lead. The latest percent, the prices for articles of is fading. her concurrence in such decisions, the military devices will be employed. necessity by 78 percent, and the prices In view of these facts the English renunciation by England of the debts Japan officially declared that the of exported goods by 90 percent. It is bourgeoisie at the last elections re- owing to her from France. The Eng- maneuver will be executed to work very difficult on the basis of these nounced the utopian ideas of the Con- lish government-has not agreed and out a problem of defense "should an factors, which indicate a very different servatives to disregard Europe and does not agree to cancel the French imaginary enemy cross Bering Sea, grade of development, to give a uni- rely in the first place on the colonial debts. MacDonald has refused up to now march thru Siberia, take Korea and form picture. That England has not markets. The English bourgeoisie, to give any promise in this respect and cut off Japan from the continent." yet reached the pre-war level in in- who since the Ruhr expedition of Poin- certainly will not do so unless France It is said that Japan's defense day dustrial production is best shown by care have looked passively on at the makes certain concessions as regards is directed entirely against America the fact of the existence of one million, events in Europe, only attempting be- foreign policy and the armaments because of the recent Japanese exunemployed, even if one bears in mind hind the scenes to egg Germany on to question. France is aiming at obtain- clusion immigration law.

Program of Action

(Continued from page 1) drones and sluggards. It wants doers, not observers.

At present the degree of activity of our membership is very low. Only a comparatively few members are really active. They carry on the life of the Party. This is an unhealthy condition. The mass must be brot into the Party work. The fate of our Party depends upon this. The Program of Action provides the way to do this. The membership must be educated to the necessity of working in all the fields of Party activity; they must be organized to carry on this work effectively; and finally, this committee machinery must be made to function. If these principles are borne in mind and applied faithfully, then our Party will rapidly advance in size, intelligence, discipline, and influence. It will soon become a real power in

How To Be a Trade Union Reporter

By EARL R. BROWDER. A^{S I} write I have before me a tele-gram supposed to be reporting an important labor convention for the DAILY WORKER. It was sent by a very good comrade, a fighter and a real militant, and he spent almost five dollars of our funds (ouch! it hurts, for money in a working class paper is almost as scarce as hen's teeth), because this was such an important convention. But we couldn't print a story about that convention, in spite of it all, because this good com- district, that are composed entirely of rade knew so little about reporting trade unions or in which trade unions that in more than 300 words he didn't take an important part, should be retell us anything from which we could ported for the DAILY WORKER. In write a story.

The DAILY WORKER cannot hire ex- executive councils, in which action is feated, what action they called for, perienced writers to go around ev- taken upon issues of general political erywhere, where things of importance importance, on issues of wages and the union align itself. are happening. Our readers must be hours, on strikes or demonstrations to a great extent, must be made in up.

reality a workers' paper, in that you, | "golden rules of writing" about trade needs, above all, is FACTS: union matters, that may help some of our comrades to get onto the DAILY ported upon. WORK staff.

. . .

port? All conventions, whether they be international, national, state, or addition, all regular meetings of lo-We haven't got enough reporters. cal unions, city central bodies, and

What should a report contain? | What were the principal arguments the readers, must write for it as well Whenever one is reporting such a on each side? Give the names of the as read it. And so, with that tele- meeting, the following points should, gram in front of me to add ferver to be included by all means, whether the question. my sermon, let me put down a few anything else is or not, remembering side, with conservatives on the other? that what the DAILY WORKER

(a) Name of organization being re-whether it is regular or special meet-What is important enough to re- ing, whether it is a convention, and otherwise the nature of the gathering.

(c) What the important issues were that came up for action.

(d) What action was taken? This means to state, as briefly as possthic, what resolutions were presented, whether they were passed or deour reporters. The DAILY WORKER, against grievances, should be written place over the question? Were the MENT. Give us this information and radicals and revolutionists on one the job is more than half done.

outstanding figures on each side of

The question of how to write these things up has already been dealt with very ably, in the articles by Karl Reeve, published in previous issues of (b) Date and place of meeting, and the DAILY WORKER. This does not pretend to tell you how to write; it points out the most important things to write about, the things that it is necessary for us to know, if we are going to publish anything about the event in question. And if you send in such information as this, we will write the story for you in shape for publication, if you cannot send it to us in a finished form. The big thing to remember is, THAT THE DAILY and on which side of the question did the union align itself. WORKER WANTS TO KNOW EVERY IMPORTANT OCCUR-(e) What sort of struggle took RENCE IN THE LABOR MOVE-

NATIONS AN

(Continued from Page 3.)

Rosa Luxemburg's views is to be found in the position of some of our Soviet Russia, because of its geo- countries. The notorious renegade German comrades.

the position of our Turkish comrades European proletariat in the sense serve to show their colonisatory from "Aidynluk" who actually advo that it made him believe in his own character. cate the class collaboration of the power and in his ability to seize Anyone who remembers the position prophesied, after the 1905-1906 revolu- this. For example, Monsieur Milyuof the Ukrainian Social-Democrats of tion, that the Russian revolution kov recently in a white-guard newsthe former Austrian Empire and that would awaken the nations of the paper occupied himself with an inof the Polish Socialists of Austria Middle East and Asia to historical vestigation of the legal nature of the will understand that the mistake of life. This prophesy has proved to be constitution of our workers' and peas our Turkish comrades has its root in correct. After the October Revolu- ants' Union and he expressed the

THE UNION OF SOCIALIST SOVIET REPUBLICS.

A Great Experiment in Solving the National Question Under the Dictatorship of the Proletariat.

PASS on to the last part of my speech-the question of the Union of Socialist Soviet Republics that was formed during the interval between the Fourth and Fifth Congresses. You know, comrades, that Russia, from the point of view of its national composition was much more complicated than the old Austro-Hungarian Empire. There were only eleven nationalities in Austria before the war while we have more than a hundred different large nations and small nationalities on the enormous territory of the previous Tsarist empire. It was very difficult to solve the national question in a country with such a variegated national composition, and the methods applied for its solution must serve as a lesson for comrades from other countries.

Another difficulty was that the proletariat was Russian in nationality while the peasantry, for the most part was of other nationalities. There are sixty-nine million Russian and sixtyfive millions of other nationalities in A French Colonial Negro in the Service of French Imperialism the U.S.S.R. Our first problem was to establish solidarity between the three millions Great Russian and the millions of peasantry of other nation-Oriental nations to itself. This situa- of force, and therefore such a governalities. There was still a third difficulty tion obliges the Russian Communist ment with a variable composition that confronted us. This many mil-Party and the Russian proletariat to cannot take upon itself any internalioned mass was, in reality, at differjustify the hopes placed upon them tional obligations. Monsieur Milyukov ent stages of economic development. by the Eastern nations. We know considered that his legal analysis Side by side with highly developed invery well that we would never have must create a fearful impression on dustrial centers we have about ten succeeded in preserving the independ- the Western European bourgeois govmillions that have not yet developed ence of the Soviet Republics in our ernments and withhold them from from being nomadic tribes. The present situation of capitalist enrecognizing the Union of Socialist formal declaration of equality was in- circlement had we not formed an united Soviet Republics. However, comsufficient, and would have had as lit front between the oppressed nationrades, the very fact that this element tle value and achieved as few prac- alities and the proletariat from the of force is lacking in the organization tical results as the declaration of Baltic Sea to the farthest Asiatic of our union forms the tremendous equality in the great French Revolu- plains. The Russian Vendee delibpower of our moral influence over nation. The proletariat of our country erately chose the borderlands of the tionalities taking part in our Union. had to set itself the problem of estab- old Russian Empire for their offens-The other means whereby we suclishing a real economic equality, ive against the victorious proletariat ceeded in uniting the different nationwhich is the only security for the of Moscow and Leningrad. And it alities into one brotherly amalgamanormal development of nations form was only the fact that we had behind tion was the socialization of the ing part of our workers and peasants' us the sympathy of millions of the riches and natural resources of the republic. We had to solve this prob- population in these borderlands that country and converting them into the resources.

lem in a country with limited economic helped us to smash Dutov, Semonov, public property of the population of Koltchak, and Denikin, the leaders of the U.S.S.R. According to the Comrade Lenin once said that the counter-revolution in the border theory of bourgeois state law all the graphical position, is a natural bridge Paul Levi, can ridicule the Bashkir property of that nation that exists on 4. Finally it is necessary to call at between Europe and Asia. This is and Kalmik Communism as much as tention to the fourth type of mistakes. undoubtedly true. Our revolution had he pleases, but we know that the ally the question of sea routes, ports, To this category of mistakes belongs a double result. It reacted on the jokes of such gentlemen as Paul Lovi borders and out a state of such sea to the sea to a double result. It reacted on the jokes of such gentlemen as Paul Levi, borders, and customs acquires enor-

Such clauses are characteristic of proletariat and the bourgeoisie. This power. Simultaneously, it reacted on our constitution, and professors of position represents nothing new. the Oriental nations. Kautsky bourgeois state law cannot understand the entire social patriotic ideology of tion, 1917, Soviet Russia became the opinion that it was without any legal the Second International.

riches and natural resources are the this bourgeois theory of law. Naturmous importance and is the source of armed conflicts between bourgeois states. The formation of the Soviet Union advanced a new theory of state law, where the question of borders has a secondary importance. In our Union a man from Murmansk has the same right to the Black Sea ports and the Donets Basis as a peasant from Poltava or a miner in the Donets coal basin. At the same time the populace of Odessa and the Don basin have the same rights to the Siberian gold mines as the Siberian peasant or a nomad from Turkestan. You understand congrades that the question of borders between states forming the Soviet Union, can have only an administrative importance in such a state of affairs, and cannot cause any conflicts.

The formation of our Union must be a powerful weapon of propaganda in the bands of our European parties, since it gives them the ability to compare the methods of solving the national question adopted by the Soviets and those applied by the bourgeois states. This is why our experience must become the property of all the European proletariat. I wish to sonclude my speech with this genorganiton and I know that in the comunistson on the national question tast will be formed at the Fifth Congreas we shall be able to find those practical solutions that will stimulate the national movements in different countries and impart to them a revolutionary character. The time for declarations of a general character has passed; we have now a period of creative revolutionary work in the colonies and among national minorittes. If we fulfil these tasks we will have created half the chances for the s of the international revolution to which we are devoted and which is guarded for the workers of the world by the Communist International. (Applause.)

Telephone Monroe 2284 Genova Restaurant ITALIAN-AMERICAN 1238 Madison Street N. E. Cor. Elizabeth St. Spaghetti and Ravioli Our Specialty Special Arrangements for Parties on Short Notice Res. 1632 S. Trumbull Ave. Phone Rockwell 5050 MORDECAI SHULMAN ATTORNEY-AT-LAW

701 Association Building 19 S. La Salle Street CHICAGO Dearborn 8657 Central 4945-4947

Cleaning House in the International By O. Carlson

first of a series of three articles by Comrade O. Carlson on the intense situation in a number of European Communist parties. The writer has been engaged for the last 18 months in active party work in the Scandinavian countries, in Germany and in Great Britain. He was also present his power to put them into effect. This at the Fifth Congress of the Communist International. He is, therefore, well equipped for his task of familiarizing the readers of the DAILY WORKER with what is going on in the Communist parties of Europe. The next articles will appear in the following issues of the magazine.

WOE unto him who does not fol-low the decisions of the Comintern! Mistakes committed by the rank and file of the parties can be forgiven and forgotten, but not so in the case of the leadership. The International may not always be in a position to act as quickly or as drastically as some of our more eager members desire-but act it does once the proper objective and subjective conditions make it possible. Those who have been entrusted with the task of guiding and directing this world-wide revolutionary movement of ours are fully aware of the fact that Communist parties and Communist leaders are not made nor founded over night. They develop; they grow. It is only in the process of the struggle that the weak and strong, the demagogues and the sincere revolutionists are separated from each other. Each world congress of the C. I. has been a gathering of the ablest and best forces within the whole movement, where a critical examination was made of the strong and weak points of the movement, nationally and internationally. Each world congress has been the means of tightening up the movement, uniting it more and more into a WORLD PARTY. As this process has gone on we have witnessed the dropping off of many would-be revolutionary leaders. TO the degree that our international has made actions and not words the criterion of membership and leadership within it, it has gained the confidence of larger masses of the exploited and has lost the approbation of phrasemongers, centrists and opportunists of all descriptions. Many of the wellknown revolutionists of former days have fallen by the wayside. The last of these is Zeth Hoglund of Sweden, whose actions within the last few months in particular, have been of such a character that he has been excluded from the C. I.

Opportunism in the Swedish Party.

The fight within the Communist Party of Sweden against the opportunist deviations of Hoglund and his group have been going on for over three years, but had never become acute until within the past year. The C. of the C. I. has taken Hoglund to task many times for his attitude

POINCARE'S MAN IN HER-RIOT'S CABINET

EXIT HOGLUND.

Editor's Note-The following is the on fundamental questions, trying in |Hoglund, or Zeth-as he is called in cal organizations of the working class whole of the party on the right track. Time and again he has given statements or declarations to the effect that he accepted the decisions of the international and would do all within he did as late as at the Fifth World Congress which was held this summer, altho immediately upon his return to Sweden he launched into a most vitriolic and dastardly attack upon the C. I. and in particular upon its real adherents in Sweden. All attempts at unity have failed, altho the C. I. was exceedingly lenient in the case-too lenient in the eyes of the writer.

> "The executive committee of the Communist International is of the opinion that all possibilities of working together with Hoglund are at an the false road which he is moving on he most certainly will put himself outside of the Communist International," declares an official statement from the praesidium of the C. I., dated August 11. addressed to the members various actions of Hoglund that were tics of the C. I.

Hoglund Expelled.

Less than a fortnight after the C. I. had issued the above statement, we find Hoglund officially excluded from the C. I. and the C. P. S. A statethe E. C. in Sweden, dated August 23, declares: "Hoglund and those members of the C. E. C. who identified themselves with him are outside of as formerly continues to remain a section of the C. I." The basic reasons for this action are that the party majority in the C. E. C. (Hoglund had four members, the minority three) had excluded the minority members from the party, altho the minority actually represented the big majority of the party membership; that the Hoglund majority on the C. E. C. refused to allow a referendum to take place on the question of accepting the decisions of the C. I. altho a far greater number of members had petitioned for such a referendum than was needed according to the statutes; that Hoglund gave out statements to the bourgeois and socialist papers which were direct lies relative to his own place on the party paper (the board of directors of the central organ of the party had decided to establish an editorial board of three-Kilbom, Hoglund and the representative of the C. I. to be responsible for the paper instead of Hoglund alone.); that he refused to continue working on this basis but instead accepted a position on a syndicalist paper, editing one page in the the name of his party group. The Hoglund group has been attempting to force a split within the party in such a fashion that those who were the supporters of the C. I. it has not been successful. Not only this way to have him see the error the Scandinavian countries—took there appeared a length article from of his ways and to bring him and the place at the time of the national con-Germany stating that now for the first vention of the Y. C. L. of Sweden, time the German workers were really May, 1921. I had just come from Ger- enjoying the eight-hour day. Never many, where the C. P. was in the an editorial correction or statement throes of a bitter internal struggle on any of these glaring articles ever arising out of the now famous "March appeared, altho Hoglund's attention Action" of that year. Paul Levi, who up to then, had been the leader of occasion. the German party, had denounced the party and the central committee for its participation in the uprising. At a time when large sections of the workers in central and southern Germany were rising in armed revolt. and when, more than ever before, it was necessary for the party to act as a unit, Levi resigned from the central committee, sabotaged the party decisions and issued articles and pamphlets attacking the party. Hoglund became an ardent supporter of Levi. In long leading editorials in "Politiend. By a persistent continuation of ken" he attacked the German party executive and praised Levi to the sky. At the Swedish League Convention he followed the same policy, using the Levi case as a means of attack against the more aggressive and militant elements within the league who of the C. P. S., in which it reviews the demanded a more revolutionary policy. We were called "foolish and ircontrary to the principles and tac- responsible youngsters," "putschists, suffering from Bakuninism," etc., etc. But the Y. C. L., despite the thunderings and threats of Hoglund took the road of the Comintern.

Just at that time there was a great deal of unemployment in Sweden. ment issued by the representative of The party officialdom was not doing any too much to cope with the situation, altho the unemployed were not only willing but anxious to be given leadership and a program. They came the C. I. and the C. P. S., which even in thousands to hear the Communist speakers. I spoke with Strom, the party secretary, about the unemployed problem. To my surprise he told me that the C. P. could get 15,000 members directly from the ranks of the unemployed at any time if it only made an attempt to get them. I wanted to know why the party was not drawing them into its ranks. He replied, "They can't pay any dues, so we won't let them in."

> I had expected almost any other answer but this. Imagine, not allowing workers to join the party because they were unable to pay dues! How can a Communist party become a mass party under such conditions?

Last winter when I was in Sweden this same party secretary, as the leader of the Communist group in the Stockholm city council, brought in a motion to the effect that the city of Stockholm take the initiative in arranging for an Inter-Baltic States' Exposition in 1935. They wanted to advertise to the world the white-guard states like Finland, Latvia, Esthonia, Lithuania. Of course, the motion carried. But it seems unbelievable that a Communist should vote for such a motion, much less introduce it. Nevertheless, it was Hoglund's right-hand man and most staunch supporter who did this. At about the same time would leave the C. P. S. but in this there appeared two particularly remarkable articles in the Saturday supthat, but the Hoglund outfit has lost plements of "Politiken," official organ the central organ of the party, "Politi-ken," as well as the following daily, was the eidtor. The first was a twopage laudation of American prisons, but of Sing Sing in particular. Why, it was enough to cause anyone to want to go to the United States for the special purpose of gaining admission to Sing Sing. I wonder what some of our comrades who have made shorter or longer involuntary stays there have to say about it The second article (clipped directly from a big bourgeois sheet in Great Britain) dealt with the wonderful work done by Scotland Yard in Britain and the Pinkertons in the United States, They were held as two of the greatest and finest achievements of mankind. Not a word was said about their role in spying upon workers' organizations, upon their tasks in framing-up revolueral, to see what lessons it may have tionists, in hounding them about from place to place, in intimidating workers and in general serving as mercenaries of the capitalists. At the time when General Von Seekt had become the virtual dictator in Germany and was crushing all economic and politi-

was called to them on more than one

Hoglund was and still is an important figure in the National Journalists' Association - an organization made up of the editors of all the capitalist papers in Sweden. Under his editorship the "Politiken" has in the last few years become an extremely "respectable" paper. Of course, the other papers attack in on occasion, but this is always done in a slightly sarcastic manner, and they inevitably refer to it as, "our worthy, tho Communist contemporary." Time and again Hoglund refused to put able workers and Communists on the paper because they were not "journalists." Consequently, the paper featured scandals, murders and other sensational news, while the really pressing problems confronting the workers of Sweden were given scant attention and were dealt with in a few sentences or paragraphs on the inside pages

Only a short time ago, Gustav Moller, secretary of the social-democratic party of Sweden, wrote a lengthy article wherein he maintains that Hoglund, despite his radical phrases is at heart a social-democrat. He is glad to see that Hoglund has been regaining his senses and is not allowing himself to be pulled about under orders from Moscow. Not only have many of the social-democrats spoken words of praise in honor of the valiant (!) fight which Hoglund has been waging against the . "asiatics," but even bourgeois papers make him the savior of Swedish "culture and freedom."

For every paeon that is sounded by the socialists and the bourgeoisie on behalf of these "good and true tho mistaken men" we have a growing feeling of disgust on the part of the wide-awake sections of the workers. That is why every large industrial section where the C. P. is organized, has repudiated Hoglund and Strom. They say that their fine phrases are empty and cannot win the day. They are not afraid of being called "Moscovites," for their aim is to accomplish that which the Russians already succeeded in doing-to rule in their own class interest.

A Courageous Judge.

NEW YORK, N. Y., Sept. 12 .- In refusing to grant an anti-picketing injunction to Gottlieb and Sieff, garment manufacturers at Jamaica on August 20, Supreme Court Justice MacCrate held that employers should not ask the courts for injunctions in labor disputes until all other remedies have been tried.

Subscribe for "Your Daily," the DAILY WORKER.

THE DAWES' MAN IN GER-

semi-weekly and weekly papers: Norrskenflamman, Vestsvenska Kuriren, and Kalmar Lans Kuriren. The Communist Women's magazine Roda Roster and the Y. C. L. paper Stormlockan are also supporting the Comintern. Hoglund has on his side two weekly papers. His group have also issued notices that they intend beginning the publication of a new central organ for their group.

These are the bare facts in the case as seen in the most recent developments-but behind these facts lie a mass of interesting material which throws light upon the struggle and the split. What I want to do is to deal with this material, to explain the why and wherefore of the case, and in genfor us. I shall begin with some of my personal experiences or observations. . .

Hoglund Supported Levi. My first contact with the mighty

Letters From Moscow By Anna Porter

(Continued from previous issue)

How else should I have known some nights ago that all over Moscow they were celebrating the 10th anniversary of the outbreak of war, with protest meetings against the capitalist preparations for the next outbreak. We could not get tickets for the meeting at which Trotsky spoke, but perhaps there was no more interesting one than that we did attend; a meeting of women delegates each representing a group of 20, and accredited to a permanent central body formed for the purpose of encouraging solidarity among the workers. These women filled the great white marble-or nearmarble-pillared hall of the Moscow Central Labor Council, formerly a nobleman's club. With the exception of one man, all the speakers were women, among them a Chinese delegate to the Red Trade Union International. She spoke with the hardly suppressed violence of voice and gesture, of the woman still in subjection, while it seemed to me that the others, however impassioned, expressed a sense of liberation-liberation of their class rather than of their sex, for the one implies the other. After each address, the band played a few strains of the International, all rising and in the change of attitude relaxing and resting for the next address.

Suddenly the roll of drums was heard without the door, and way was made for a company of Young Pioneers, boys and girls, with their gorgeous red and gold banners and red neck-kerchiefs. Down the isle they marched to the roll of their own drums, and up to the stage, where they formed in two long lines across it, while one of their number stepped forward and spoke for them. Great enthusiasm was shown for the little band, for these young people are the government pillars of the future. Two hundred thousand of them there are, enrolled thruout the country, with a large membership in Moscow. Their watchword is "Be prepared!" and they know very intelligently just what they must be prepare for-to stand for their class against the armed threat of the capitalist world without. Again the International, this time sung by the whole audience thru three long stanzas. I have never heard it so cheerfully sung, with no hint, in the tone, of the dismal and rebellious idea conveyed by the words; rather, a suggestion of happy fulfillment.

After a short intermission, the stage was cleared for a children's performance. A mixed group of boys and girls from Homes and Trade Union schools gave in song and dance, a very beautiful interpretation of the Carmagnole, which had to be repeated. A little play in dance and song was put on by the Young Pioneers, called "The Pioneers' Dream." The preliminary acting was spontaneous, and the dancing of flowers, butterflies, frogs, fish, etc., pretty and amusing, but this part might just as well have been anywhere in America. Then came an ef- churches with their picturesquely-

NEW CULTURE

white blouses and short skirts carried | berly beautiful interiors I remember sickles at their hips, or large army of old. stars held high, the boys, stripped to the waist, swung huge hammers over their shoulders; and all went to work with an energetic rythm. The whole little company then gave a marching drill in army fashion, with a great deal of snap. Finally a group of young people, gathered from the famine districts, from all sorts of alien races, gave songs in chorus from some of their own music. Two young boys sang together a strange barbaric thing, with plaintive unfamiliar intervals. They were in charge of a very unassuming leader, who led them out and simply indicated when they should begin, and then effaced himself. I should have mentioned that the children opened their program with an artistically sung memorial song for Lenin, whose huge portrait hung behind them, decorated with greens. Everywhere "Leninism" is the conspicuous inspiration, and in spite of Max Eastman, this is not a static conception; its very essence is flexibility. About midnight, the International again, and when we came out, keyed up with the inspiration of it all, we found ourselves faced with an American movie thrown high on the wall of the building across the square. A beautiful girl on horse back in a wild country was being rescued from a low browed villain by a handsome officer. It seems to be a permanent free show, and not having paid for it, you can j go on when you please without a sense of extravagance. Perhaps the workers sit at the windows of their noblemen's club, and view it at ease. They are run at a much slower tempo than our films. The next night as I passed, the electric army star still blazed above the labor temple and the sickle and hammer above its door, framed in scarlet bunting, and on the film canvass they were throwing antiwar propaganda in cartoon and text, while the great cobble-paved square was filled with thousands, standing or sitting cross-legged on the cobles, in silent interest. And it is no pacifist propaganda, this anti-war protest, for the watchword of the Workers' Government, like that of the Young Pioneers, and like that of every government, but with more sincerity of purpose, is "Be prepared."

Yesterday, I just missed entrance to the Lenin Mausoleum in the Red Square, with a contingent of correspondents, to whom, with some nerve, I should have attached myself had I known in time. Every day at 5 P. M. long lines of the devout assemble at the doorway opposite, where permits are given. Instead, I was shown about the Kremlin, (which is now difficult of access) by Mrs. Fischer of the Children's Improvement Committee whose office is there in a beautiful old 16th Century palace, and who sacrificed her valuable time to go about with me in the hot sun, and through the state room of the palace. But alas, I could not enter the proup of old fective drill; the bare-fegged girls, in massed domes and towers, whose som-

Leaving the Kremlin gate, I saw long lines of marching citizens with scarlet banners and buntings, with portraits of Lenin and Marx, and texts and slogans, pouring in from all directions and massing for a great demonstration march. My way lay with theirs, so I paralelled them on the side-walk. Companies of soldiers, companies of workers, of women, of students, of Young Pioneers,-school and gymnasium groups, down to the smallest tots, who marched as valiantly as their elders through the hot sun and the long hours. In front of the Comintern, where an official group was gathered on a high balcony, each company halted for salutes and "yells", for like our own youths, each group has its yell. I dropped out for awhile and had lunch at a small cafe, and when I came out, they they were still passing. On they went, past the Moscow Soviet, where the saluting and yelling was repeated, while the bands played continuously the "International." Long ranks of mounted troups passed, blocks of them; each time I though the end had come, more swung into sight around the bend of the street. Finally, I gave up my review of the Labor parade and went home to rest, while they seemed to go on endlessly,-and I hope this is symbolical-in their great demonstration against Capitalist war.

I skirted the walls of the Kremlin in street.

the little terraced parts of the park that surrounds them. The park-strip was full of people but most of them were occupied, in a leisurely way. Children played about under the trees. The long grass and weeds had just been cut with the traditional sickle, and students and young intellectuals lay about reading or discussing with open books. It had a restful withdrawn atmosphere, very pleasant in contrast with the confusion of the streets; for everywhere I go,-in the streets, the shops, the officies and bureaus,-I feel that things are out of order, and that everyone is working evry hard to get them in order again. The streets are kept clean, nothing is really disordered, I find plan and system everywhere, but there is the feeling you have at home when the rugs are up and the furniture moved into useless corners and you sit on the chair-arms. But you know it is getting into order, and you don't mind for awhile. There is a sense of impermanence and transition with a clear object ahead. Moscow is getting into order,-Russia is getting into order,-you feel that everywhere, in spite of what seems to be-and is-confusion.

A company of red soldiers, in dustcolored uniforms and peaked caps with the army-star in front, and with camping blankets slung across their shoulders, have just passed by, singing lustily, and in their wake a clear-This morning, in an aimless ramble, ing thunder-shower is sweeping up the

the DAILY WORKER.

(Continued from page 2) ceeding the proletarian-the Metaphysical, the Theological, the Linguistic-were long-distance views of life. Concrete aspects were overlooked as insignificant; common life suffered forth our ideal shall be a social deaccordingly. Proletarian culture alone is potent to make us realize the large significance of common things. The great lesson of Darwin's life work: "The cumulative importance of infinitely little things" is also a true basis for our Use-Culture. Bygone cultures declared with contempt that the toiler's life was an infinitely little thing, but they knew not the cumulative importance of infinitely little things! Hence their perverse bungling.

way. No longer shall it be legitimate to assail Superior Brains with a for-tion is to give birth to genius and merly just condemnation; "tho ye nourish it. They have no other raison boast an hundred wise ones amongst d'etre." ye, what shall it profit me, too hard- | Haven't they?

h

driven as I am for the enjoyment of culture and wisdom." Culture yersus Life shall one day simply become an apt phrase for denoting the colossal mistakes of caste-rule. Hencemocracy guided by a sociologic culture generously devoted to the discussion, analysis and solution of life's daily problems. Lilies must be made to bloom otherwheres than on dung hills.

In the humanized tomorrow, no man of genius will repeat but with deep humiliation those callous sentences of Oscar Wilde's:

"The poor are poor creatures and must be hewers of wood and drawers of water. They are really the dung

The Nouveau Regime is well on its hill out of which men of genius and artists grow like flowers. Their func-